MAN ON BICYCLE FIRES AT CARMAN

Physician in Whose Office Mrs. Bailey Was Killed Object of Murderous Attack

NONE OF BULLETS HIT HIM

Sheriff Claims Sufficient Evidence Discovered to Warrant Arrest of Woman.

Freeport, N. Y., July 5.—Dr. Carman, in whose office Mrs. Louise Bailey was murdered last Tuesday evening, was shot at three times to-night as he drove in his automobile through the town of Baldwin, near here. None of the bullets struck him. The doctor was on his way home from Rockville Centre, where he had been to attend a patient.

Dr. Carman told the police the story of the attack on him. He had been out making professional calls and passed through Rockville Centre on his way home. There he met Garland Gaden, an actor, and invited him to ride home with him.

"Gaden accepted my invitation," said Dr. Carman, "and got into the car. We stopped in a store and as we again got into the car I noticed a man on a bicycle near the curb. We drove off without paying particular attention to the man.

"When about a mile and half out of town I heard a report and thought one of the tires had exploded. My friend got out on one side of the machine and I got out the other. As soon as I put my foot on the ground I heard another shot, and when I looked around I saw the man I had seen when we came out of the store standing beside his bicycle with a revolver in his hand. Gaden shouted: 'My God, Carman he's trying to kill you!'

We both jumped into the car; there was another report, and a bullet was singing by my head. Gaden and I leaned far over in our seats to be out of range of the bullet, and I opened the throttle as far as it would go.

HURRIES TO POLICE HEADQUARTERS
Dr. Carman, on his arrival in Freeport, hurried to police headquarters and told his story.

Shortly after he had quickly said to the scene of the shooting in a high-powered automobile, closely followed by a posse. At midnight an automobile full of detectives and policemen went to the scene, and other detectives were rushed off to the nearby towns of Baldwin, Rockville Centre and Lynbrook to hunt for the man on a bicycle described by Dr. Carman.

The authorities placed special significance on the fact that the woman assassin was said to have been on a bicycle. During the night following the murder of Mrs. Bailey, when blood hounds were used, they circled the Carman house and then started off down the road on which Carman was returning home to-night. The detectives who had charge of the hounds at that time said they had much difficulty in following the scent, and expressed the belief that the person they were following was riding a bicycle.

A police official suggested the possibility that Dr. Carman might have been mistaken in his belief that the object of a murderous attack. Dr. Carman, however, was positive in his statements, and Gaden, his companion, confirmed the story.

SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE TO WARRANT ARREST

Sufficient evidence has been discovered to warrant the arrest of a woman for the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey in the office of Dr. Edwin Carman last Tuesday night, according to Sheriff Stephen P. Pettit, of Nassau county.

The sheriff to-night refused to disclose the exact nature of this evidence. He announced the woman would be taken into custody before the end of the week, possibly at the close of the coroner's inquest, which will be resumed to-morrow. The sheriff added that the important evidence in his possession would be presented at the inquest.

Whether this so-called new evidence is the revolver with which the murder was committed the sheriff would not say. The ends of justice, he declared, and the interest of the community, he added, should be amplified by his statement.

SISTER OF MRS. CARMAN TO BE RECALLED TO STAND

When the inquest is resumed, Mrs. Ida Powell, sister of Mrs. Bailey, will be recalled to the stand, Corner Norton said to-night. It is understood she will be given an opportunity to change testimony she gave on Friday concerning her whereabouts just before the murder.

George Golder, one of Dr. Carman's patients who was in the house when the murder was committed, will be recalled to the stand, Corner Norton said to-night. It is understood she will be given an opportunity to change testimony she gave on Friday concerning her whereabouts just before the murder.

DID YOU EVER BARGAIN WITH A TIRED MAN?

It's like telling a story to a sleepy child. It won't listen. The tired man's brain is fogged. He has been annoyed by petty trivialities and little kinks in his business. He is weary, and he wants to "forget it."

But catch that same man in the morning. He has started the daily grind. His mental "sleeves are rolled up" and he is ready to take hold of any proposition you have to offer. It's the same with the busy housewife. If you have a merchandising story to tell her see that the message is delivered to her the first thing in the morning, before she has been wearied with the thousand little incidents which enter her daily life.

It is because the morning newspaper reaches our homes when we are bright, cheerful and receptive that its influence in world affairs is undisputed. Men who have built up successful enterprises by advertising never neglect to tell their story through the morning newspaper.

Let THE TIMES-DISPATCH carry your story of bargains, sales and merchandising plans to the people of Richmond at the time they are receptive—when the day begins.

FLIES ON EITHER MOTOR

Glenn Curtiss Violates His Theory in Flights in the America.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Hammondsport, N. Y., July 5.—Glenn Curtiss' theory that America, the transatlantic flying-boat, will fly almost as well on either one of her propellers as she does with both, was vindicated to-day, when he flew the machine first on one motor and then on the other. He made several flights this afternoon to save the crowd of spectators from disappointment at not seeing the America fly.

On one time to-day there were 200 automobiles parked about the space where America is anchored, and a constant succession of touring cars visited the field all day.

Curtiss took the machine out about 3 o'clock with five passengers and a load of about 800 pounds of fuel. The boat was not ready for final trials, but Curtiss, for joy riding, after a flight over the measured mile, in which Henry Klockler clocked America's speed at sixty miles per hour, Curtiss made a wide turn several miles down the lake and flew back to the hangars on one motor. At the end of the flight he reduced the speed of one motor until he finally stopped it altogether, but finding it did not seriously affect the machine balance, he alternately cut out one motor and then the other.

The flights with one motor support Lieutenant Porte's theory, that America has a large surplus of power when in flight. The planes used on the hull to take off and land very fast, but they are not yet entirely satisfactory.

AUTOS COLLIDE HEAD-ON

Two Persons Probably Fatally Hurt and Three Others Injured.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Ocean City, N. J., July 5.—Two persons probably died, and three others were injured in a head-on collision between two automobiles going at high speed on the Shore Road at the end of Ocean Boulevard to-night. The impact was terrific and both cars were reduced to a tangled mass of twisted steel and machinery.

The two men most seriously injured are Gilbert Nichols, champion golf player, and William O. Rowland, of Jacksonville, Fla., concussion of the brain and fractured skull. Nichols, probably, concussion of the brain, compound fracture of leg and broken knee-cap, and William O. Rowland, of Jacksonville, Fla., concussion of the brain and fractured skull. The others hurt are B. C. Page, of Postmont, Pa., scalp wounds; B. A. Headley, of Swedesboro, lacerations of face, flesh in head and fingers broken; and a Christian, of Mullica Hill, broken right arm.

Nichols, Rowland and Page after their injuries were temporarily dressed by doctors at the scene of the accident, were taken to the Atlantic City Hospital, where it was said to-night that Nichols and Rowland might die before morning.

NEGROES WILL TEST LAW

Pledge Financial Support in Fight on Segregation Ordinance.

Louisville, Ky., July 5.—Financial support in testing the constitutionality of an ordinance segregating negroes in Louisville was pledged by several hundred negroes at a mass-meeting here to-day. The action was taken by the adoption of a resolution, after addresses had been delivered by Dr. J. E. Spingarn, of New York, of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and Professor William Pickens, of Talladega College, Alabama.

The segregation ordinance became effective last May. It prohibits negroes from moving into the squares in which most of the residents are white. The same prohibition applies to white people. Dr. Spingarn stated that the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People would assist in the legal fight against the law.

FIFTEEN PERSONS DROWNED

Launch Bearing Fourth of July Crowd Capsizes in Heavy Gale.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Seattle, July 5.—Fifteen persons were drowned when the gasoline launch Superb capsized in the Lynn Canal, Alaska, yesterday morning, according to advices reaching here to-day. The launch, carrying twenty-three passengers, all residents of Skagway and Haines, were proceeding from Skagway to Juneau, where a Fourth of July celebration was to be held. The launch was about 200 yards from the shore when it capsized in a heavy gale blowing. Two of the survivors succeeded in swimming to shore, but the other six clung to the overturned craft until rescued by the government steamboat Patterson.

B. Y. P. U. CONVENTION ENDS

Special Song Service Feature of Final Session.

Kansas City, July 5.—A special song service, led by a chorus of 300 voices, to-night closed the joint convention of the Baptist Young People's Union in America and the Baptist Young People's Union in the South.

Rev. C. C. Coleman, of Dallas, in an address, pointed out that people are all "Christians," and that the only way they can pay the debt is by saving their fellows.

"God's notes are worth face value without discount," he said. "The debt is 1,000 years overdue now. We must help pay it. Some should give money, others their children, others themselves, and all should give their best."

ALL SHIPS TAKE PART

Foreign Men-of-War Participate in Independence Day Celebration.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Washington, July 5.—A delegation from Admiral Badger to-night stated that all foreign men-of-war present in Vera Cruz harbor participate in Independence Day celebration to-day. All the ships were rigged in full dress from 6 A. M. until sunset, and at noon fired a national salute of twenty-one guns.

The foreign vessels participating were the British cruisers Bristol and Berwick, the German cruiser Dresden, and the French cruiser Des Carres.

LOCAL RAINS THIS WEEK

Temperatures Averaging Near Normal

Washington, July 5.—Temperatures averaging near normal throughout the country, with local rains fairly well distributed, were forecast to-night by the Weather Bureau for the week.

"A disturbance now over the Northwest," the bulletin added, "will move slowly eastward, crossing the Great Central Valleys Tuesday and the Eastern States about Wednesday, attended by rising temperature and local showers and thunder-storms."

WILL WAGE FIGHT ON ROCKEFELLERS

Theory on Which Authorities Are Working in New York Bomb Explosion Case.

FOURTH VICTIM IS FOUND

Evidence Gained in Ruins of Wrecked Tenement Tends to Show Plot at Assassination.

New York, July 5.—In the ruins of the Lexington Avenue tenement-house, wrecked yesterday by the premature explosion of a bomb that killed Arthur Caron and three other persons, the authorities to-day found evidence that Caron's apartment was a centre for the distribution of inflammatory literature which was printed there, and that at the time of the explosion it was apparently a bomb factory, filled with the ingredients of death-dealing missiles.

A small printing press, revolutionary pamphlets and circulars, an electric dynamo, two electric batteries, cartridges and bits of steel were among the articles uncovered, which tend, in the opinion of the police, to show an anarchistic plot at assassination. That a demonstration, halted by the bungling of a feral machine, was being planned against the Rockefeller family in Tarrytown, is the theory on which the authorities are working. Two of the killed in the apartment were prominent agitators, who were placed on trial at Tarrytown to-morrow on charges of disorderly conduct in connection with the demonstration against John D. Rockefeller, Jr., as a player in the "Big Steel" strike. The bodies of the fourth victim was found to-day. It was that of Charles Berg, known in I. W. W. circles as "the Big Steel" assassin. The other victims were Charles Hanson and Mary Chase. The women lived in an apartment next to that occupied by Caron and his associates.

MEMBER OF I. W. W. EQUALLY AS INTERESTING AS THE DISCOVERY

Equally as interesting as the discovery by the police of anarchistic literature and electric machinery in the ruins of the tenement was the assertion by I. W. W. leaders that the explosion was not a member of that organization, recently having been refused admission. They declared the I. W. W. had nothing to do with the explosion. Why Caron was denied a place among the workers was a point they did not make clear.

A suggestive piece of evidence, uncovered to-day, was a severed hand, which clutched two small pieces of wire made ready for connection. Authorities believe the owner of this hand was in the act of making an electric connection for one of the bombs exploded when the explosion occurred.

The search for papers and notes was minute, and some notebooks, with the names of several anarchists, were drawn from her. A general alarm which had been held at I. W. W. headquarters, One poem, a vitriolic attack on Christianity, is believed to have been printed on the little press.

Another of the papers found was an appeal for funds. The line of Frank Tannenbaum, sentenced one year in prison and fined $500 for disorderly conduct in connection with an I. W. W. demonstration.

CLOSELY QUESTIONED ABOUT BOMB-MAKING

Louise Berger and Eleanor Fitzgerald, a teacher in the Francisco Ferrer School, were closely questioned to-day as to what they knew of bomb-making in the district. The police tried to trap Miss Berger, into admitting some knowledge of a plot to use the bomb, but not a single admission could be drawn from her. A general alarm was sent out to-day for the arrest of Michael Murphy, whose real name is said to be Aspernti, in the flat when the bomb exploded and whose escape was aided by the police. Shortly after the explosion, but before the real nature of the case was learned, he was released.

Louise Berger declared the three men who died in the explosion were not associated with Emma Goldman in the publication of Mother Earth, an anarchistic paper, to-night declared none of the dead men was a member of the I. W. W., and that the agitation directed against them was "in behalf of the striking miners in Colorado."

A party of sympathizers, including Berkman, will go to Tarrytown to-morrow, he said, to attend the trials. He said he would be in the Tarrytown courtroom to guard the prisoners. Sheriff Doyle to-day said he did not anticipate trouble from friends of those to be arraigned.

INVITED TO LUNCHEON

Ford, Detroit Manufacturer, Will Visit White House on Thursday.

Washington, July 5.—Henry Ford, of Detroit, manufacturer of the Ford car, last week by President Wilson to call at the White House to discuss business conditions, will lunch with Mr. Wilson on Thursday. He is understood to agree with the President's opinion that the outlook for business is good.

A different story will be told the President on Wednesday by a delegation of leading Chicago business men, who plan to protest against certain features of the pending anti-trust measures.

SMALL AREA BURNED OVER

Alarming Reports of Forest Fire Prove to Be Exaggerated.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 5.—Alarming reports were received here late to-night of a forest fire in the north-east part of Brown County, seventy-five miles south of Indianapolis, but inquiry by long distance telephone showed the first information to have been exaggerated. Only a small area was burned over. The blaze at one time threatened the village of Georgetown, but was put out before reaching the place.

PLAN FINISH FIGHT ON BIG MONEY BILL

Republicans Determined to Oppose Passage of Rivers and Harbors Measure.

SENATE NOW IS DULL BODY

Few Members Apparently Concerned in Debate on Trade Commission Statute.

Washington, July 5.—Although Congress is really interested in only two subjects, passage of antitrust legislation by the Senate and adjournment, a handful of Republican Senators expect to inject a little life into the matter of the Rivers and Harbors bill before the recesses end, and promise to make a particularly hard fight to prevent the passage of the river and harbor appropriation bill.

This bill as it passed the House carried about $10,000,000, and to this amount the Senate added about $10,000,000. Republicans who oppose it declare that the measure also provides for the expenditure of $10,000,000 in the next two years, and say they are determined to oppose it to the finish. Senators Borah, Burton and Kenyon are leading figures in the fight, and they think they will get support from the Democratic side of the chamber.

The present method of handling the bill has helped the cause of the opposition, and may lead to some embarrassing situation among its leaders before it is disposed of. The measure now comes up for only a short time each day, when there is no other privileged business to consider. To press it quickly to a conclusion, it would be necessary to put it ahead of important legislation.

DEMOCRATS COUNT UPON REPUBLICAN SUPPORT

Democrats who favor the bill, however, say the attack upon it will not prevent its ultimate passage, and count upon many Republican votes to aid to put it through.

Aside from the fight on this measure, the Senate is showing little interest in what is going on in Congress. The trade commission bill is now under consideration, but its appearance each day at the chamber has attracted only a few or more Senators present, and few of them apparently concerned in the debate on its provisions. Twice an effort to get an agreement to take a vote has been unsuccessful, though action may come before the week closes.

The two other trust bills still are in the hands of Senate committees, and probably will not be completed for several days.

The Democratic conference last week bound majority Senators to remain in Washington until trust legislation is disposed of and provided that a quorum should be kept in the Senate chamber to expedite the bill. The conference has appeared only after numerous roll calls, but beginning to-morrow an earnest effort will be made to keep Democrats in their seats. Night sessions probably will be resorted to during the week to clear up the calendar, and some leaders still hope for adjournment in six or seven weeks.

HOUSE IS CHAFING OVER DELAY IN ADJOURNMENT

While the House is chafing over delay in adjournment, the majority leaders are going ahead with a program, which, if carried out to completion, would probably be reported to-day. Warm weather and approaching holidays are combining to cause light attendance, and barely more than a quorum of the House is in Washington.

EMPEROR OF SYMPATHY

Emperor Francis Joseph has written an autograph letter to the Austrian and Hungarian premiers, in which, after referring to the assassination of the archduke and the duchess, he says: "My heart is full of grief and sorrow. I feel that I am bound to you by the ties of sympathy which have reached me the last few days from all sections of the empire. A criminal hand has robbed me of my dear and beloved daughter-in-law, and has snatched from his children, who have scarce outgrown their unprotected and tender infancy, all that on earth was dear to them, and has heaped irreparable sorrow on their innocent heads."

"But the fanaticism of a small band of misguided men cannot shake the sacred ties that bind me to my people. I feel that I am bound to you by the ties of sympathy which have reached me the last few days from all sections of the empire. A criminal hand has robbed me of my dear and beloved daughter-in-law, and has snatched from his children, who have scarce outgrown their unprotected and tender infancy, all that on earth was dear to them, and has heaped irreparable sorrow on their innocent heads."

"This fresh and painful trial that God's unfathomable decree has imposed upon me and mine will strengthen me in the resolve to follow the way I know to be right to my last breath for the welfare of my people, and if I can at the end bequeath to my successors the pledge of their love as my most precious legacy, that would be the dearest reward for my paternal cares."

"I authorize you to express my heartfelt thanks to all those who in these sorrowful days have ranged themselves in trusty loyalty and devotion around my throne."

PROPER RESPECT NOT SHOWN DEAD

Reception of Bodies at Poehchlarn Attended by Scandalous Proceedings.

BITTER CONTROVERSY RAGES

Funerals of Late Archduke Francis Ferdinand and His Wife Stir Indignation.

Vienna, July 5.—While the bodies of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife, the Duchess of Hohenberg, repose beneath the castle chapel at Artstetten, a bitter controversy is raging over the manner in which the funeral was conducted. Newspapers are devoting columns to the discussion. It is charged court officials made the ceremonial too correct, and the duchess' friends are indignant at the emphasis laid on her inferior birth.

According to leading Vienna papers, the reception of the bodies at Poehchlarn was attended by scandalous proceedings. A violent thunderstorm on the prearranged ceremony, and the coffins were carried hurriedly to the waiting-room of the station and placed on the stone-paved floor, where they remained two hours or more.

Meanwhile the volunteer firemen, who were supposed to be assisting the local gendarmes in controlling the crowds, were drinking beer and eating sausages, while the more important persons strolled about smoking cigars and talking loudly. The coffin containing the body of the late heir to the throne.

RESEMBLED TURMOIL

The torrential rain drove everybody into the waiting-room, and says one account "all the ordinary rules of behavior seemed to have been forgotten, and the scene might be described as resembling the turmoil and noise of a country fair."

The coffins were brought to Poehchlarn in two freight cars coupled together. The interior was draped with black cloth. The personal suite of the archduke and duchess, exhausted by the fatigue of the previous three days, refused to leave the sleeping cars, and the clergy in attendance to bless the bodies were kept waiting for an hour.

The highest court functionaries are attacked for their part in the conduct of the funeral, and it is said that but for the personal intervention of the emperor the body of the duchess would have been buried in the Hofburg chapel, but would have been conveyed alone direct from the Vienna station to Artstetten.

RESENT EXCLUSION

The small number invited to the funeral of the late archduke and his wife in the imperial chapel on Friday, although attributed solely to the limited accommodation, also gave great umbrage to many friends of the couple who were not invited.

As a protest against their exclusion about 120 members of the noblest families in Austria and Hungary, some of them being privy councillors and court chamberlains, and nearly all court officers, decided to march in the funeral procession from the Hofburg to the railroad station.

When this fact was learned by Prince Montenuovo, chamberlain of the emperor's court, he hastily summoned a ministerial council to decide upon what action should be taken to prevent a demonstration, but the council, when informed that the nobles concerned would resign their offices if interfered with, decided to do nothing. Consequently, when the nobles appeared, dressed in uniform, they were met by a line of court officers, who refused to allow them to follow in the funeral procession.

FOR PROOF OF SYMPATHY

Emperor Francis Joseph has written an autograph letter to the Austrian and Hungarian premiers, in which, after referring to the assassination of the archduke and the duchess, he says: "My heart is full of grief and sorrow. I feel that I am bound to you by the ties of sympathy which have reached me the last few days from all sections of the empire. ### TO GROOM KERN FOR RACE

Enemies of President Wilson Approve Indiana Senator.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Washington, July 5.—Senator John W. Kern, of Indiana, to-day denied knowledge that his friends were preparing a presidential boom for him for 1916.

Congressional enemies of President Wilson, whose ire has been aroused by the alleged dictation of the chief executive in legislative matters, it is rumored, have voiced their approval of the Democratic Senator, and are urging him to seriously consider himself a prospective candidate.

ACCIDENT FATAL TO THREE

Auto Struck by Burlington Freight Train Near New Shabbona, Ill.

Aurora, Ill., July 5.—Three persons were killed and one fatally injured to-day when a Burlington freight train struck an automobile near Shabbona, Ill.

The dead are: Dr. H. P. Greely and wife, Lee, Ill., and Mrs. C. W. Richardson, Chicago. C. W. Richardson, Chicago, was fatally injured. A clump of trees hid the approach of the train from Dr. Greely, who was driving the automobile.

WILSON ATTENDS CHURCH

Hears Patriotic Sermon and Takes Usual Sunday Motor Drive.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Washington, July 5.—President Wilson accompanied by his cousin, Miss Helen Bones, and Mrs. Wilson's cousins, the Misses Smith, of New Orleans, attended church services to-day at the Central Presbyterian Church and heard a patriotic sermon. The President took his usual Sunday motor drive with Thomas D. Jones, of Chicago as his guest.

GETS NO NOTICE TO QUIT

Williams Knows Nothing of Report That Wilson Invites Him to Resign.

Athens, July 5.—George Fred Williams, American minister to Greece, whose recent statements regarding conditions in Albania have aroused discussion, to-day said he knew nothing of a report that President Wilson has invited him to resign. He reiterated that he had received instructions from his government to visit Epirus and confer with the international commission, but admitted the State Department at Washington was not responsible for his report.

Mr. Williams said the Corfu protocol gave the Epiotes no effective guarantee, because a majority of the powers, including Great Britain refused to send troops to the interior of Albania. Moreover, he rejected the Epiote demands that the gendarmerie should not be employed outside the borders of Epirus, and stipulated that for a time the governors should be foreigners belonging to a neutral state. A member of the international commission, W. D. Hays, said that Mr. Williams these demands were not accepted, and never would be accepted, and without these guarantees, Mr. Williams declared the promises of the powers were illusory.

STRONG DEMAND FOR T. R.

Perkins Says Colonel's Name May Be Placed on Progressive Ticket.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
New Haven, Conn., July 5.—The name of Theodore Roosevelt may be placed on the Progressive ticket as candidate for Governor of New York in the coming primaries, according to a letter from George W. Perkins, printed in the colloquial New York organ of the Progressive party. Mr. Perkins writes:

"I have had a talk with Colonel Roosevelt. His throat, I fear, is not in good shape, and I think we have all got to join hands in insisting that he take care of it for some time to come. Our situation in this State is shaping up all right, and I believe we are in the light here in a very good position."

"Tolls that have been taken in a good many parts of the State show a very strong demand that the Colonel should run. He, of course, does not want to do this, and has said he will not do it, and he insists on this position. However, there is a possibility that the disgust of the voters for both the old party machines may run that high, and he may be put down in the primaries anyway."

FRIENDS WITH MRS. ANGLE

Seek to Guard Against Rigid Cross-Examination by Police.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Stamford, Conn., July 5.—Friends of Mrs. Helen M. Angle, now held at police headquarters as a material witness in connection with the mysterious death of Walter R. Ballou, are afraid that the police intend to submit her to a grilling cross-examination. To guard against this Mrs. Angle's father and several friends have been spending as much time as possible with the imprisoned woman. The police, however, have announced that so badly privileged will be curtailed hereafter.
